

The illustration consists of three separate vignettes, each enclosed in an ornate, decorative oval frame. The first vignette on the left shows a horse standing in a field with some foliage. The middle vignette depicts a horse running or galloping across a field, with a rider or person visible on its back. The third vignette on the right shows a horse standing in a field, with a windmill and a small building visible in the background.

Boundary is absent from Arcadia's pedigree, and although the other three quarters are the same as the three top quarters in that of Income (i. e. Sterling, Isolla Bella and Hermit), Arcadia has Land's End in place of Boundary in her bottom quarter and this is not so good, either from the point of view of returning a horse the best blood in his dam, or from the standpoint of the figure system, because Income returned the blood and was herself a member of what the season has proved itself, the best "running" family, No. 2, whereas Arcadia's Land's End strain, misses the one point and makes her moreover a member of the outside No. 9 family figure, which although at this season came out tenth best in order of value—immediately following the five running and four sire families—is nevertheless decidedly inferior to Income's figure. It must not be thought, though solely on these two counts, that Blairfinde will not hit well with Arcadia. I only point out that they miss one factor which helped the success of the union of Blairfinde with Income. The introduction of Land's End in place of Boundary, brings in to play the known liking of Springfield (Blairfinde's maternal grandsire), for the blood of Land's End. When Springfield himself was mated with that mare, two good colts resulted in St. Michael and his younger brother, The Lizard, and it will be exceedingly interesting to see whether Blairfinde on Arcadia, will prove as successful a combination as that which has already produced Revenue and Port Blair.

In Mr. Allison's book, "The British Thoroughbred," he says No. 9 is a very bad sire strain, both for getting runners and broodmares, but although this is the case, I cannot help fancying that the produce of the two No. 9 animals should be able to gallop, there being an extraordinary number of the best running strains close up, No. 1 occurring four times, while 2, 3, 4 and 5 (three times), are also present. Sire figures, however, are few indeed and pretty far back.

The 135th annual dinner of the Gimcrack Club, took place to-night at York, and Mr. James Lowther, M. P., was the principal speaker. I had intended giving you the gist of his and other important speeches, but the great gale and snowfall of yesterday has played havoc with the telegraph and telephone wires which keep us in touch with the North and only fragments of the speeches have as yet come in (2:00 a. m. Saturday.) One of the 80 guests was John Porter, who proposed the health of Major Joicey, owner of this season's Gimcrack Stakes winner, Sterling Balm. The veteran Kingsclere trainer has always been strongly against the early racing of two-year-olds, hence it was no surprise when he made the suggestion that all two-year-old races run for in future between the commencement of the racing season in March and the 1st of June, should be selling races. This he contended, would be all in favor of the breed of horses, as under such a rule there would be no temptation to run a good class youngster unduly early. Porter has always practiced what he advocates, his good two-year-olds almost invariably making their debut at Ascot in June, or else at Goodwood at the end of July, and there is sound sense in his idea. It is true that we have had a Derby winner in Donovan, who came out in the March of his two-year-old season and won the Brocklesby Stakes at Lincoln Spring, but all horses are not Donovans. Galtee More, for instance, a big, massive colt, would have been absolutely ruined if he had been brought out so early, whereas he was kept in retirement until the autumn and did not make his first appearance until he ran in and won the Middle Park Plate, making a hack of Velasquez. Prior to this the latter had carried all before him and it was indeed a bitter blow when it was seen that he was unable to live with "Galtee." Many people put down Velasquez's defeat to the heavy going, but that he was beaten on his merits was proved in the "classics" of the following year, Galtee More again and again asserting his superiority over Lord Rosebery's crack. Galtee More was, of course, not trained by Porter, but by Darling—another believer in letting juveniles have as much time as possible—but if instances need be cited from John Porter's own record, that of Common is ready to hand, who never ran at all until he came out in the Spring as a three year-old and romped home an easy winner of the Two Thousand Guineas of 1891, and, like "Galtee," carried off the Derby and Leger as well later in the year. Another of Porter's Derby winners, the incomparable Ormonde, first made his appearance on a race-course at the Second October meeting at Newmarket and having won a little race there just to "open his eyes" he came out in real earnest in the Houghton week at the end of the month and carried off the "Criterion" and the Dewhurst Plate in quick succession. Returning to John Porter's remarks, he pointed out that it was clearly proved by statistics that they had a greater proportion of old horses running in France than we on this side of the Channel, and this although the majority of French races were run over a greater distance than ours. This he rightly attributed to the fact that in France two-year-old races are not allowed before the 1st of August. Further, Porter thought that horses should not go to the stud so early as the end of their three-year-old season, and here again he struck a note which is in harmony with the ideas of most of those who have the best interests of the turf at heart. As to the starting gate, which has worked admirably since its institution, Porter was full of praise, saying that it was the best way of starting large fields that he had yet seen.

So far as I can learn, little or no reference was made to American jockeys, save that one gentleman, who is not an owner of thoroughbreds, is said to have stated that what he wanted to see was English jockeys on the backs of English horses. This, no doubt, was a thoroughly patriotic sentiment, and the speaker warming to his work, went on to say that while the American invaders had taught our jockeys that the art of race riding did not consist merely in riding a brilliant finish, he disapproved of the American jockeys' "methods." This, of course, was a wrapped up repetition of all the nonsense which has been uttered during the past season concerning the alleged pulling of De Lacy. I do not wish to re-open old sores, so let me pull up here with the remark that De Lacy was beaten on his merits if ever a horse was. I don't hold a brief for the American jockeys, either as a body or individually, but this patting on the back of English jockeys as paragons of honesty, and general running down of their American rivals, is a bit steep. One would imagine that no English jockey had ever pulled a horse or fouled an opponent by design, or been warned off for so doing. Mr. Lowther's speech was mainly devoted to considerations of the Jockey Club's domestic policy. In connection with the retirement of Mr. Edward Weatherby, he made it pretty plain that the Club would before long take much of the management of turf affairs out of the hands of Messrs. Weatherby and in great measure run the whole show themselves. Mr. Edward Weatherby has always stuck up for Americans as a body and it was mainly owing to his good offices that one or two of the American trainer-owners received permission to establish themselves at crowded Newmarket. The English trainers at headquarters are very numerous and, therefore are not keen on "invaders" as a rule, unless they come prepared to spend money. This, of course, is only natural, and as the main idea of some of the invaders is to make their horses pay expenses and show a profit, there has, equally naturally, been some jealousy, and now that Mr. Weatherby has retired, it would not surprise me if fewer licenses were given to strangers to train at Newmarket next season. I see that "Hidalgo" states in a recent issue of THE THOROUGHBRED RECORD that it is an open secret that Mr. Corrigan and Mr. Wishard have been informed that they need not apply for a renewal of their licenses to train at headquarters. If this is the case, it is quite possible that the congested state of affairs there is at the bottom of the matter, for the little town in Cambridgeshire is notoriously overstocked with horses and trainers both. No license from the Jockey Club is required to train horses elsewhere, and if I wanted to start a training stable, Newmarket is the last place I should think of, for a horse can't cough at one end of the town but it is known to every soul in the place within a few hours. Lord Carnarvon has found this out, and not wishing everyone to know as much about his animals as he does himself, he has had them removed to Whatcombe, in Berkshire, where the gallops are better and the touts few and discreet. Why should not Messrs. Corrigan and Wishard do likewise? I trust that they will, for both have shown themselves to be excellent trainers and marvellously good judges of a race-horse. I am told that it is true, after all, that Johnny Reiff is going to ride next season in France; at all events I am assured that when the report to that effect was contradicted, the agreement to ride for Prince d'Arenberg and others, was actually already signed. My informant is a man who should know. By a slip of the pen, in a recent letter, I alluded to the winner of the Criterion Stakes at Newmarket, as the filly by Henry of Navarre—Abeance. This should of course have been by Ayrshire—Abeance.

There is little or nothing of any importance to write about in connection with steeplechasing. The open ditch at the Manchester meeting has brought about the death of two more horses, Mathiole and Red Reel, the one a tried old fencer and the other a promising four-year-old. Provided that the King's horse, Ambush II, steers clear of mishaps at the "ditch" until the end of next March, he will about win the "Grand National" for the second time. I have nothing to add to what I wrote last week concerning the Epsom Derby, save that the Duke of Westminster is going on well at his new quarters at Kingsclere. Stay though, I must put on record that Sam Darling will no longer train for the Messrs. J. R. & Foxhall Keene next season, finding himself unequal to the strain of superintending so many horses. So the Keene horses are going to be trained by Felix Leach (one of the late Mathew Dawson's best pupils) at Newmarket, where Leach has hitherto had charge of a select string of horses belonging to another wealthy owner, Mr. H. J. King, for whom he won the double of Northamptonshire Stakes and Great Metropolitan last April with Evasit.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

METROPOLITAN GOSSIP.

GRAVESEND, L. I., Dec. 24, 1901.

Editor Thoroughbred Record:

Those who have an intimate acquaintance with Eaton-town will hardly accuse it of being a Metropolis. As a matter of fact Eatontown is today further removed from being a rising town even than it was in 1893—the year of the hayseed's triumph, the year in which the inhabitants of Jersey thought that racing was too good to live, so buried it nonetheless—though Eatontown is not a metropolis, some of its doings in the racing line are strictly up-to-date and so form fitting subjects for Metropolitan Gossip. The Haggin string, consisting of 140 horses, is quartered there, on the new track, near to the Eatontown end of it. Clarence H. Mackay's string too is housed there for the winter, and the home stables of Eatontown have, as usual, their complement of horses. The task of looking after a number such as Mr. Haggin has in training it is needless to say would be too much for one man to accomplish, and Littlefield is assisted in his work by his father, Charles Littlefield, and also by his brother, Barry. It is a large establishment, consisting of eight stables, and adjoining these are ten paddocks of about an acre in extent, also a twenty acre paddock in which some twenty of the yearlings are permitted to run out in a bunch. Littlefield is a believer in the gelding allowance, and for that reason has had twenty-eight of his colts added to the list, which makes them so much the more easy to handle. With so many horses to be cared for a large number of help is necessary. There are no less than five cooks to attend to the needs of these latter, and a butcher's shop, a grocery store and all such accessories form part and parcel of the colony. The oats are furnished by car loads from Chicago, but the hay and straw are purchased from the farmers of Monmouth county, who find Littlefield their best customer, without shipping their produce to a more distant market.

Watercolor is, of course, the king-pin of the stable, and trots around in the lead of the first string, seemingly conscious of his superiority. The stable help call him by their favorite nickname of "The Jersey Express," and their belief in the handsome black is unbounded. He is looking in excellent shape, big and lusty, notwithstanding the fact that he campaigned throughout the season, and took part in races both the first and last days of the Morris Park meetings. There are not so many of the older horses left in the string, but of these the horses well-known to racegoers Bon Mot, Busy Lady! Ranald, Champagne, Sparklet and Stranger all look as if ready to commence proceedings again with a few good works into them to get rid of the extra flesh they have put on. There are sixty-three at present taking regular exercise, and the number will be increased on the first of next month, when more of those which are at present enjoying their romps in the paddocks will have to join the regular exercise division.

The yearlings taken throughout are a big growthy lot, and may be pronounced very promising. Needless for me to say that they will not all prove racehorses; but a very good percentage may be prophesied of favorably. When colts are roughing it in the paddocks, as these are, with hair on them an inch and a half long, it is a different matter pronouncing judgment, to what it will be when they come to the post. One for instance will round out and furnish in his training, while another—equally good looking in present condition—may shrink away, when he has to face the hard work of his life, and deteriorate in appearance. It is early in the game to make selections, but at that there is little danger of bringing one's judgment into disrepute, since any encomiums now passed upon them will have been consigned to oblivion, long before the time when the first bugle call is sounded. Some few which especially caught my fancy shall be named, and it is to be hoped that they may fulfil expectations. There is a big, good looking colt, by name Teddy Mack, which has a lot of size and substance, and is a half brother to High Order, by Candlemas—Tongese. A chestnut filly by St. Gatien—Fleurette, the sister to Firenzi, is full of quality and has every appearance of making a race mare. She too is already named Amaryllis, and we may expect to see her fighting it out for some of the many big stakes in which she is engaged. A still nicer filly even is a chestnut, by name Rosewater. She is sired by Watercress, dam Rosette, and has every right, judging from appearance, to be a filly of the highest class. Littlefield has not done much with her, for the reason that he has not had her long. She came with the batch of Haggin horses recently turned over to him by Wimmer, and Wimmer no doubt could give a good account of what she has shown him at Sheephead Bay. She is a half sister to Cockade Midian, &c., so has every license to be as smart a performer as her looks would infer. A chestnut colt, which is not ultra fashionably bred, being by Fitz James—Brillar, is a decidedly good looking youngster. He is built on nice lines, with plenty of length, and has plenty of substance, which makes him look more than useful. A chestnut colt by Prestonpans—Cheetah is a nice appearing colt in every respect, and he should prove a feather in the cap of Prestonpans. A chestnut filly by Golden Dawn—Cachuca is an extra stout, big framed one, and if looks go for anything she will prove the worth of Golden Dawn's breeding, which is exceptionally good. He is by Bend Or—Early Morn, she by Rosicrucian. A brown filly by Watercross—Touche Pas and a big, chestnut gelding by Golden Garter—Stella are certainly above the average, and this latter is naturally a favorite with the trainer, since Stella herself was an extra good race mare in his string, and has likewise furnished him with the good winners Sabilla and Bonaparte. These are only some few of many choice looking and choicely bred ones, but they are a fair sample of the whole. What their work has been, how good, how bad, or how indifferent, is not for me to say. A trainer does his full share when he gives you an opportunity to look over his colts closely, without going into the question of which are the best performers.

There are some very useful colts in the various strings at Eatontown, but they will have to take their turn in another letter, when the reader is fresh and not wearied to death by hearing an outside opinion of what he cannot see himself. Before leaving the Monmouth Park track it might be as well to add a note or two about the string of Clarence H. Mackay, which is wintering under Charley Hill's care in the stables adjoining those of Littlefield. Banastar and his stable mates are all roughing it in the paddocks, and only one or two such as Heno, which get to feeling their oats and rest too much, are exercised under saddle. Banastar is lusty and well. Indeed, he might be mistaken for a dray horse, were it not for his beautiful bloodlike head and neck, which would destroy the illusion. His trainer stopped him after the Brooklyn summer meeting, and blistered him in front twice over, so that his legs still show the effects. He thinks he will train the coming season but before putting him to work purposes putting him to a few mares. Three of the Mackay weanlings by Hamburg, Plaudit and Mirthful are now quartered at the Silverbrook Stud Farm of Lucien Appleby, which is just across the water from Hill's present stable. Heno is doing capitally, and has been pin fired for the osselet on his off foreleg, which was very pronounced and at one time threatened to give trouble. The high-priced Frankfort, 3—the brother to Hamburg—went wrong in his knees this season, and firing had to be resorted to. Hill says that he has all the speed which the Bitter Root people claimed for him at the Marcus Daly sale. He has frequently shown him a half in 47 seconds and five furlongs in a minute flat. It is to be hoped, therefore, that he may still do some good for Mr. Mackay, and get back some of the purchase money. Brunswick is a 2 year-old which Mackay bought from S. C. Hildreth at the time when he went to Chicago to see His Eminence run for the American Derby. He was a good winner in California, but has been amiss since coming East. Prince of Melrose, 4, by Farandole—Orchid, was purchased from G. H. Whitney on the strength of some very last work which he showed. He, too, went wrong, but is now all right again and should be heard from next season. The Kentucky Derby winner, His Eminence, was run down when he came into Hill's hands, and had the misfortune to be cut down at Saratoga just as he was rounding into shape. He has improved more than most, and will still retrieve the reputation which he gained in the West but forfeited in the East. Dartman and Choate are two useful looking colts, bought at the Marcus Daly sale, and they should be in evidence next season, being grandly bred and likely looking. The unknown quantity of the stable is the two-year-old Roslyn, a bay colt by Isinglass—Lucy Cross, by St. Simon, imported along with the brood mares of Marcus Daly from England. He was unbroken at the time of sale, and Hill has hardly had time to discover whether he is worth the big price paid for him. He is certainly a grand individual, as all said who saw him at the sale, and has shown speed sufficient to warrant Hill in believing that he is a race horse. Klon-dyke, the old jumper, belonging to George F. Hill, is wintering with the horses trained by his brother and is in excellent shape.

Enoch Wishard is back from England, bringing with him twenty-seven horses, thirteen of which are his own, and among them the stallion Widower, consigned to Milton Young, of McGrathiana Stud. W. C. Whitney's Elkhorn and thirteen horses consigned to Gene Leigh were also on board the Minnehaha. Wishard has been training in England for Richard Croker, but on announcing his retirement sent the horses to Croker's home at Wantage. He does not know who will train them in the future. Wishard's other horses along with him belong to John Drake, of Chicago, and one of them is Alvescot, for which he recently paid $5,000. He will train and race these next season at Chicago. From there he will journey to Saratoga, winding up the season on the Eastern tracks. Just now he will stay for a few days at the Hoffman House, and then continue his journey to Chicago. Among the horses consigned to Gene Leigh are Sempronius and King of Coins, stallions; the latter is a son of Lady Minting, for which James R. Keene recently paid $15,750 at auction. The Germans were anxious to obtain her, but Mr. Keene outstayed them in the bidding. She is by Minting, dam Virginia Shore by John Davis. A subscription has been taken for her to Florizel II., belonging to King Edward, so she will probably join the mares recently sent over to the Royal Stud.

Charlie Ballard is another recent arrival from England, where he has spent the last eighteen months riding and training. Ballard is growing fast and taking on flesh, so that he will no longer be able to ride even at the big weights in England. He has had his full share of success, and intends returning in two months' time to train the horses of J. de Leon, by whom he is engaged. He has a higher opinion of English racing and race-horses than those of his own country. In fact he has become ultra English in his tastes during his short sojourn, "yer know," and is anxious to get back.

Jockey Archie McIntyre is home from France, where he has had a capital season, and has a high Citizen engagement, when he will ride for Prince Murat and M. Abbelle Lieux.

At a meeting of the Stewards of the Jockey Club the following racing dates were allotted for the season of 1902:

Washington Jockey Club—Thursday, March 27, to Saturday, April 12.
Queens County Jockey Club—Tuesday, April 15, to Thursday, May 1.
Westchester Racing Association—Saturday, May 3, to Thursday May 22.
Brooklyn Jockey Club—Saturday, May 24, to Friday, June 13.
Coney Island Jockey Club—Saturday, June 14, to Friday, July 4.
Brighton Beach Racing Association—Saturday, July 5, to Saturday, August 2.
Saratoga Association—Monday, August 4, to Friday, August 29.
Coney Island Jockey Club—Saturday, August 30, to Saturday, September 13.
Brooklyn Jockey Club—Monday, September 15, to Saturday, October 4.
Westchester Racing Association—Monday, October 6, to Saturday, October 25.
Queens County Jockey Club—Monday, October 27, to Saturday, November 8.
Washington Jockey Club—Monday, November 10, to Saturday, November 29.

Saratoga gets a few days more than last year, from August 24 to August 29. The new track being built by Tim Sullivan at Jamaica has not been allotted any dates.

"CITIZEN."

They were stepping lively at both New Orleans and San Francisco last Saturday. At Oakland Headwater ran three-quarters of a mile in 1:12½, taking a quarter of a second off the track record for that distance. Colonel Ballantyne, with 118 pounds up, ran a mile and a sixteenth in 1:44½, taking a half second off the record. "Lucky" Baldwin's Crusados annexed the Junior Stake and equaled the track record of 1:26 for seven furlongs. At New Orleans Little Elkin did the mile and a half in 2:35, which lowered the track record a second and a half, and St. Cutbert equaled the track record of 1:13 for six furlongs.

Dr H. E. Rowell has two fillies at Oakland who will become members of the two-year-old brigade on January 1 which have shown quarters in 0.24½, and which are being booked by the California railbirds as good things. One is by Magnet, out of I Declare by imp. Inverness, and the other by Figaro, out of Flossy by Flood.

The first week of the Charleston meeting has not been a glowing success. The same horses run nearly every day, and unless there is a goodly number of equine recruits and better attendance it is a safe prediction that the end to the venture will come when the $37,000 deposited by "Tobe" Wall is exhausted.

GEORGE ARNOLD WINS CHRISTMAS HANDICAP.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 25.—George Arnold won the Christmas Handicap at the Fair Grounds this afternoon, but to do so he was forced to run one of the greatest races that has been witnessed in the West or South this year. With 123 pounds in the saddle the big son of Sir Dixon made the circuit of the track, according to official timers, in 1:39 flat, thus knocking off three-quarters of a second from the previous track record for a mile, made by Varro, a three-year-old last season. George Arnold ran to his very best mark today and reached the limit of his speed. Under Winkfield's powerful riding he was doing his best from start to finish. It looked like bad policy to go out and force the pace with a horse weighted as was George Arnold, but Winkfield knew that it would not do to let Mint Sauce get far away, and the crowd was, therefore, treated to a rather unusual spectacle of the top weights setting a terrific pace from the start. Mint Sauce had his usual great speed, and at the end of the first half mile in 48 seconds he was leading Fuller's gelding by two lengths. Turning out of the back stretch, though, the latter rapidly closed on the imported horse, and at the head of the stretch they were on practically equal terms. From there home they raced like a team, Mint Sauce showing a neck in front to within a few jumps from the finish, when Winkfield gave Arnold a particularly vicious cut with his whip, and the big Sir Dixon horse shot his head in front in the very last stride.

When the time—1:39—was hung out a shout went up that could have been heard half mile away. Even if the race was not run in better than 1:39½, as some trainers caught it, George Arnold's performance, all things considered, was phenomenal, and stamps him a sure enough race horse. This was not the only noteworthy performance. The racing today was the most brilliant ever witnessed here, two other track records being broken. For a starter Nellie Waddell, who was doing her best, clipped half a second off Sir Florian's mark for five furlongs. In the mile and twenty yard handicap Nitrate, the heavily backed favorite, nipped Piederich in the last jump and knocked a second and a half off Leo Lake's local record. Piederich was best, but Coburn outfinished Cochran Amigari, who, at one time, was 30 to 1, and was sent to the post at 7, won the six-furlong handicap for 2-year-olds. The crowd in attendance was an immense one, and 21 books had a heavy play. Jockey Carl Mitchell, who rode in Germany the past season, arrived here today.

DEATH OF DUNLOP.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Dec. 21.—Ed Corrigan's recent importation, Dunlop, dropped dead today at the former's ranch near Sacramento. Dunlop was a bay horse, foaled in 1895, bred by His Majesty. He was sired by Ayrshire, out of Fortune by Scottish Chief, she out of Chana, by Thunderbolt. As a 2-year-old Dunlop won his first and only essay, The Prendergast Stakes, at Newmarket, value £972, from a field of eight; at 3 years old he did not win, but ran third to Jeddah and Batt in the Derby, and was third in the Select Stakes; at 4 years old he won two races out of nine starts; at 5 years old he won but one race. Dunlop was a very good looking horse and would have, no doubt, been a success for Mr. Corrigan, whose misfortune in his loss is a matter of universal regret among turfmen.

Ontario Veterinary College, Toronto, Canada.

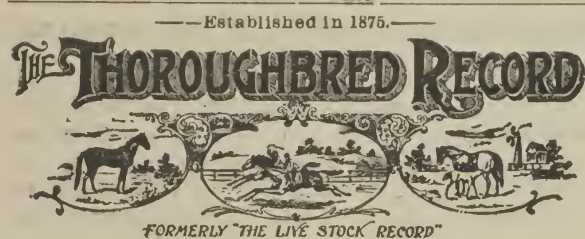

The Christmas examination of the Ontario Veterinary College was held in the college buildings on Temperance street on Friday. The following gentlemen, after passing a stringent examination before the usual examining board, were awarded diplomas:—

Graduates—Wilson A. Bisbee, Cleveland, Ohio; Alexander Doherty, Ellsmere, Ont.; J. Leonard Faragher, Lorain, Ohio; Albert T. Ford, Neustadt, Ont.; A. P. Lubach, Boonton, N. J.; John L. LEXINGTON, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1901.

IN OUR issue of December 21 the statement was made that Clarence H. Mackay had purchased from John E. Madden twenty-eight broodmares. The foundation for this statement was the fact that the Racing Calendar, the official organ of the Jockey Club, in publishing the entries to the Hopeful Stakes to be run for at Saratoga, in 1904, had these mares entered in Clarence H. Mackay's name. Knowing that entries of mares for this stake must be made by the owner we announced the fact that these mares had changed hands.

The following appears in the Racing Calendar, Dec. 26, 1901:

CORRECTION.

Through an error in the printing department of the Racing Calendar, Dec. 19, the entries for the Hopeful Stakes of 1904 below that of Plaudit—Fallide, which should have been credited to Mr. J. E. Madden, were credited to Mr. C. H. Mackay.

While willing to take our share of blame for this report, still such mistakes on the part of the Racing Calendar are absolutely inexcusable. As the official organ of the Jockey Club, it should be extremely careful in such matters, as these mistakes are frequently annoying to parties not concerned.

Again the fact that this report was credited to THE RECORD merely goes to show what a splendid news medium THE RECORD is, and moreover ninety per cent of the "Associated Press" and "Special" horse news that is sent out from Lexington has its birth in the columns of this publication. In the present instance the local news cribbers and pilferers did not follow their copy, but inserted the fictitious price of $3,000 a mare. No doubt this mistake has been quite annoying to Mr. Mackay, and we apologize for our share of the annoyance. In the future let our esteemed cotemporary, the Racing Calendar, be more careful, for, with the facilities at its command, the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth should appear in its columns.

THE RACING OUTLOOK IN THE EAST.

The promise for high-class racing in the East throughout the forthcoming season, now again almost at hand, was never better than at present. All the chief racing organizations, and, indeed, some of those rated lower in the scale, have added considerably to the value of stakes given in previous years. The valuable events which were recently closed by the reorganized Saratoga Association have received the strongest kind of support from both Eastern and Western owners, and there is no reason to suppose that those events now announced in THE RECORD by the Coney Island Jockey Club, the Brooklyn Jockey Club and the Brighton Beach Racing Association will not receive strong support. There will probably be an absence at the Spring gathering at both Brooklyn and Sheephead of some of the best Western stables, but there can hardly be a doubt that the best of the Handicap horses now wintering in Kentucky and Tennessee will be sent on to do battle for "The Brooklyn" and "The Suburban," and later for "The Brighton." The two first named are headliners of the spring gatherings of turfmen in the East, and Western horsemen will do well to bear in mind that entries to both close on Thursday, January 2, and to "The Brighton" on December 31. Quite a number of other valuable stakes are also announced in our business columns by these sterling organizations, to all of which we direct the attention of our readers. Since the Jockey Club has taken control of Eastern turf interests, the sport has thrived in and around the metropolis of the Union in a manner hardly dreamt of when the Jockey Club was organized in 1894. To say that the success achieved since that date has been phenomenal in every direction is not stating the case too broadly by any means. It is amply demonstrated by the returns of the racing associations this year to the Comptroller of the State of New York, the 5 per cent tax exacted by the State exceeding the sum of $130,000, which is distributed among the different agricultural societies of the State. The tax is, without doubt, a very onerous one, but it has had a beneficial and far-reaching effect among the farmers of the State. And the farmers of the State are not the only ones who benefit by the provisions of the racing law. The breeders all over the country are also gainers thereby. The overnight purses, as well as the fixed events, have been increased in value. It is not too much to predict at this early date that the yearlings to be disposed of in 1902 will fetch greater prices than in any previous year. New blood is finding its way to turf sports from year to year, and this in itself will enhance the demand for well-bred young horses. The breeder, therefore, that supports the valuable Eastern stakes will, at the same time, be adding materially to his own bank account. Read the conditions of all the stakes to be found in our advertising pages. Blanks for all of them can be had at THE RECORD office.

WASHINGTON PARK STAKES.

So far as the Western turf is concerned at the present time, the real corner stone of racing is the Washington Park Club, of Chicago, an organization that because of its social prestige dominates the racing interests in the West, and places the sport of kings upon the true level to which it belongs—this fact being recognized by all of the other associations that contribute to the make-up of the Western Jockey Club. In another column of this issue will be found a list of stakes offered by this organization for the summer meeting of 1902, entries to which will close on January 15, 1902. Among the many liberal events listed are the American Derby with $20,000 added, and it is safe even now to assert that it will bring to the post one of the largest and best fields that has ever faced the starter in this great Western classic and that it will draw out the largest crowd ever assembled in America, either East or West. There are four other stakes for 3-year olds, including the Sheridan, $4,000 added, Englewood, $2,000 added for fillies, and Drexel $2,000 added. There are seven stakes for 2 year olds, including the Hyde Park, $5,000 added, and six stakes for 3-year-olds and upwards, including the Wheeler Handicap, with $7,500 added. In all of these events the entrance fee must accompany nominations. Turfmen failing to receive entry blanks can obtain them by application to the Secretary James Howard, 61st street and South Park Avenue, Chicago, or at the office of THE THOROUGHBREDED RECORD.

LOCAL TURF NEWS.

The good race mare and producer Bonnie Lizzie, the property of James Galway, New York, died at Stonewall Farm on December 20. She was a bay, foaled in 1878, by imp. Hurrah (son of Newminster), out of Bonnie Kate, by imp. Bonnie Scotland; she out of Young Fashion, by imp. Monarch. Bonnie Lizzie was a clever race mare and achieved the distinction of winning the Congress Hall Stakes at Saratoga for three consecutive seasons. Among other good winners, she has thrown the useful horse Verity.

Capt. T. J. Clay, Balgowan Stud, has had the misfortune to lose the good brood mare La Sorella. She died a few days ago from pneumonia. La Sorella was a bay mare, foaled 1885, by Dave Yandell or Trumps, out of Sisterly, by War Dance, out of Sister of Charity, by imp. Knight of St. George. In the stud La Sorella threw, among other winners, the useful horses Sumo, Sumatra and Capron. She was heavy with foal to Faraday.

Joseph Nevin, of Louisville, Ky., has sold to Eastern parties the yearling colt John Nevin, by Falsetto, dam Celerity, by Leonatus. This was one of the ablest youngsters tried at Louisville this Fall.

T. P. Hayes, the Lexington owner, who led the Horsemen's Protective Association in its fight last Spring against the Western Jockey Club, has decided to apply for a license from the Western Jockey Club. During the war which waged the past season between the Turf Congress and the Western Jockey Club, Hayes was one of the owners who took sides with the Turf Congress.

In the many reviews of "champion two-year-olds" of last year, Endurance by Right and Blue Girl are unanimously placed in that order among the fillies, but opinion is divided between Nasturtium, Yankee, Goldsmith and a couple of others, Abe Frank having champions, for honors among the colts. One colt which has been consistently overlooked, and yet which has claims of undoubted strength, is one that did most of his racing over the St. Louis tracks last summer. Tom Hayes' colt Runnels, by Charade—Zingara II. Runnels hooked up with Endurance by Right only once. This was at Louisville on a very heavy track, when he carried 113 pounds against 110 on the filly, equal weights under the scale. He beat her like breaking sticks. She afterward showed she could run in the mud, and Runnels performed if anything better on a fast track than in heavy going. The colt was ailing a bit after this, and while unfit started against Abe Frank, Memnon and others in the Hyde Park Stakes at Washington Park, and was beaten off. After that he came to St. Louis, and, gradually rounding to, beat better horses each time he started, finally giving weight to such a good horse Peaceful, and beating him in a common gallop, a mile and a sixteenth, in 1.47. In this race he showed all the marks of a colt of exceptionally high class, he looks stake horse all over, and a lot of good judges will be surprised if he don't develop into one of the very best 3-year-olds in the country, not barring the stars of the metropolitan circuit.

Henry T. Oxnard, a prominent capitalist and turfman of New York, is spending a few days in Lexington, the guest of John B. Ewing, of the Willamette Stud. Mr. Oxnard has gotten together one of the most select collection of broodmares in this country, and patronizes all of the leading sires. In 1901 his mares were stunted to such well known stallions as imp. Masetto, imp. Bowling Brook, imp. Top Gallant, The Commoner, Requitel, Ben Brush and imp. Esher. Mr. Oxnard has displayed excellent judgment in the mating of his mares, and richly deserves the success as a breeder which seems almost assured will come to him.

Thos. H. Shannon, the popular young bookmaker and master of Hollywood Stud, leaves to day for New Orleans, where he will "cut in" with his book about the first of the year. Mr. Shannon takes an optimistic view of the racing situation and predicts that 1902 will witness the most glorious season the American turf has ever known.

T. B. Cromwell, one of the best sporting writers in the West and sporting editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, who has been Christmasing in Lexington, was a caller at this office yesterday.

THE RECORD was the recipient of a case of beer and some souvenir pictures from the clever turfman, Wm. Gerst, of the Gerst Brewing Co., Nashville, Tenn. This Christmas remembrance was greatly appreciated by THE RECORD, and we extend compliments and best wishes to the genial donor.

The chestnut yearling filly by Handspring, out of Honeydew, by imp. Kallikrates, the property of George H. Whitney, died at Jersey City, on December 25, from the effects of pneumonia. The filly was a good looking one and was purchased by Mr. Whitney out of the Messrs. Keene consignment to the recent Woodard & Shanklin's sale.

W. H. Laudeman, who recently bought the interest of Mrs. Byron McClelland in the Business College building, has named the building in honor of Hernando, his race horse which won the Latonia Derby, the Superior Stakes, the Grand Stand Handicap, and other big races. The "Hernando Building" is the way the big building will be known in the future.

Charles H. Treacy, of the Montana Racing Association, Butte, Montana, is spending the holidays with relatives in Lexington.

Two magnificent cups, won by products of the Meadowthorpe Stud, on exhibition in one of Lexington's leading jewelry stores, have attracted considerable attention during the holidays. The larger cup was won by Kings Courier, winner of the Doncaster Cup at Doncaster, England, the other by Whiskey King, winner of the Rancho del Paso Stakes at the fall meeting 1901 of the Westchester Racing Association.

EMPIRE CITY TRACK SOLD.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—At Yonkers the Empire City Race Track was sold to-day by Bankson T. Morgan, referee, for $218,000 to Frank Farrell.

Farrell began the bidding at $211,000. Although there was a big crowd present, only one other man, whose name was not obtained, bid against Farrell.

There is a mortgage on the property of $150,000, held by the Washington Life Insurance Company, and a second mortgage of $45,000, held by a private party. Much surprise was expressed at the low price at which the track was sold. Farrell is supposed to represent a party of well known politicians.

Among those who are said to be interested in the deal with Mr. Farrell is William S. Devery, Deputy Commissioner of Police.

It is the intention of the new owners to make application for racing dates for the Empire City track, and veiled threats of outlaw racing and other methods of retaliation are made should the Jockey Club refuse.

MEMPHIS GOSSIP.

MEMPHIS, TENN., Dec. 25.—Horses and people are preparing to spend a quiet week at Montgomery Park, the local horse haven, where for the past two months the Schorrs, Sam Hildreth, Charley Ellison, Tichenor & Co., Hiram Pierce, G. C. Bennett and many others have been engaged in breaking their yearling purchases.

A mantle of snow and ice envelops the track, barns, cottages and paddocks, and Christmas week will witness trainers and owners hugging the fireside. The older horses have been given their farewell exercise for the year; the yearlings have been given their last tryouts, and already the mails are carrying nominations to the racing associations in the East and West for events of the next turf campaign.

Yearling disappointments have been frequent, but in some of the stables are youngsters in which lie future hope for purses and stakes. The Schorrs have returned with twenty-three head which will celebrate their 2-year-old birthday Jan. 1. Possibly the most distinguished member of the Schorr establishment is a half-brother to Endurance by Right, by imp. Pirate of Penzance. This colt, as well as several by Lieber Karl, have shown good flights of speed in their preliminary trials. The Lieber Karls are the result of Schorr's first effort at breeding. Young Russells, St. Georges, Eshers and Top Gallants complete the list that will carry the orange and black in 1902.

The string stable of G. C. Bennett contains eighteen coming 2-year-olds and the crack Abe Frank, as well as Ed Austin, Aladdin and other good coming 3-year-olds. The Bennett establishment seems especially strong with Derby material for the next season.

In conversation with Henry McDaniel, the trainer of the stable, Mr. Bennett expressed a desire to equal the record of the Cushing stable, made in 1893, when Cushing's horses captured the Tennessee Derby with Calhoun, the Kentucky Derby with Lookout and the World's Fair Derby with Boundless. In the younger division of the Bennett stable is a half brother to the deceased Miss Bennett; also, several head which are the product of the Bennett breeding establishment in this county. They are mostly the get of King's Counsel the premier stallion at the Bennett farm.

Hiram Pierce, the young Kentuckian, who has been very successful at the local track in breaking Hamburg, Ornament, May Hempstead, Suisun and others, has charge of a small but select stable of yearlings.

Tichenor & Co. possess a Dr. Rice—Constance IV. colt, which looks to be built on the right racing lines. Sam Hildreth has broken a few youngsters that give promise of developing into racers of the right kind. Hildreth has made many improvements around his stable, which is known as the "glass house horse headquarters," owing to the manner in which he has fitted up the barn. The stable proper is surrounded with glass panels extending from several feet above ground to the roof, thereby affording plenty of light and at the same time protecting the thoroughbreds against the wintry blasts which prevail at present.

In the Ellison barn is the most expensive purchase at the track. The colt is by Sir Dixon, and great things are expected of him from the manner in which he went about his preliminary work. Ellison has expended $25,000 in the purchase of yearlings, and in appearance they class above anything at the track.

M. N. Macfarlan, Secretary of the New Memphis Jockey Club, left to-night to mingle with the breeders in the Kentucky Blue Grass country. Macfarlan will visit Churchill Downs and all the breeding establishments around Lexington. Cincinnati and Chicago will also be included in the trip.

DOES THE WESTERN JOCKEY CLUB TAKE COGNIZANCE OF BETTING?

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 23.—When bets were declared off on a race here a few days ago considerable surprise was expressed by those who were acquainted with the rules of the Western Jockey Club, of which organization the Crescent City Jockey Club is a prominent and influential member. Section 32 of the declaration of the principles of the Western turf governing body reads: "The Western Jockey Club takes no cognizance of betting or bets." In declaring off bets on the race in question the Crescent City officials certainly took cognizance of the betting. Perhaps the rule quoted has reference to the Western Jockey Club as an organization, and is not meant to be binding upon the individual members of that organization. It has certainly been variously treated by racing association members of the Western Jockey Club. When Abe Frank ran away in the Maywood Stakes at Washington Park and was excused from starting the stewards of Chicago's swell racing association conformed to the letter and the spirit of the Western Jockey Club's rule. All bets stood, and at least $100,000 was thus burnt up. A little later, over at Harlem, a horse was excused from starting in a race because of a mishap to him after the betting on the race had begun. Judge Hamilton did take cognizance of the betting, and ordered that money bet on that particular horse be refunded. Subsequently a similar case came up at Worth, and there, as here last Tuesday, all bets were declared off. In the light of what has just happened it might be well for the Western Jockey Club to make plain what was intended when Section 32 of that organization's rules was adopted.

THE SPEEDY MODRINE IS DEAD.

The four-year-old chestnut colt Modrine, by imp. Sir Modred—Katrine, died at Sheepshead Bay track a few days ago of spinal meningitis. He was the property of Trainer James H. McCormick and was bought by him from Green Morris this summer. In the colors of Green Morris he was an oft time winner, and more especially he was successful at the San Francisco meetings last winter, where had as much speed as anything in training.

James R. Keene will have one of the best stables of race horses in England next season. It is announced that he has just secured the noted English trainer Felix Leach to take charge of his string Sam Darling, who trained for him last year, is in bad health and has been compelled to take a trip to South Africa.

At the head of the string will be Conroy, the only three-year-old that ever won the Brooklyn Handicap. He has fully recovered from his stone bruise which caused a quarter crack, and is in fine physical condition. Among the other noted horses are Cap and Bells, winner of the English Oaks this year; Disguise II., who finished third for a Derby; Chacornac, the winner of the Futurity of 1900, and Noonday, a fast stake filly.

The horses have been shipped to Beckhampton, Mr. Keene's regular training grounds at Newmarket.

After an absence from the track of three years, that grand old race horse Buckwa is again in training at Oakland, Cal. Since his last appearance under saddle he has been running in pasture, and his owner has decided to see whether he will stand the severe work necessary to put him in shape to repeat some of his former victories. Some days Buckwa gallops fairly strong and on others he pulls up lame. There is no intention to force the old bread-winner, and if he will not stand up, back to the green fields he goes to end his days, for his owner, Ed Purser, will never sell him.

Imported Royal Flush, the horse formerly owned by John Drake, the Chicago plunger, with which he made such a sensation in England in 1900, is in fine form at Oakland at present. Morris thinks he has a rarely good race horse in this fellow, and Lester Reiff is authority for the statement that he was next to the best spinter in England last year.

James F. Caldwell, formerly starter on the track of the Saratoga Racing Association and other race courses, is seriously ill at Saratoga, N. Y., with sciatica, which has affected him for five weeks.

When the Heart is Affected

By rheumatism or any of the muscles near that organ it is like tampering with an electric wire, for death may come at any moment. If life is worth it, do not hesitate, but get Dr. Drummond's Lightning Remedy. Send $5 to the Drummond Medicine Co., New York, and they will send you two large bottles, enough for a month's treatment, by first express. It is not as quick as electricity, but will save your life if you take it in time.

TWO-YEAR-OLD WINNERS OF 1901 UNDER THEIR Sires.

We present to our readers this week, a list of winning two-year-olds under their sires for the year of 1901 up to, and including December 26. An addenda will be published in next week's issue which will make the table complete for the entire year. It is a much mooted question as to the supremacy of the brilliant stars that shone during the year. Many think Endurance by Right carried off the palm, others Nasturtium, while Yankee, Blue Girl, Abe Frank and Goldsmith have many admirers who count each as champions. We shall not endeavor to discuss the championship, as the table below deals with the relative merits of sires.

In number of races won the redoubtable and lamented hero of McGrathiana, the peerless Hanover, leads with 18 winners of 47 races; imp. Pirate of Penzance, the useful son of imp. Prince Charlie, and very often called the "poor man's friend," is tied with his stable companion the classy looking Lamplighter for second honors, the former having 11 winners of 45 races, while the son of Spendthrift and imp. Torchlight is credited with 14 winners of 45 races. St. Carlo is fourth on the list, the Californian furnishing 10 winners of 42 races; next comes Hastings, who inaugurates his stud career with the creditable showing of 16 winners of 38 races; sixth on the list is Major Carson's clever sire imp. Ben Strome, who is represented by 14 winners of 34 races. In number of races won by an individual imp. Pirate of Penzance stands first, his daughter Huntress having earned brackets 17 times; Inspector B. follows closely, his magnificent daughter Endurance by Right having won 16 times.

This table does not include winners at the Charleston and Savannah meetings; these will be added in next week's issue.

THREE-QUARTERS OF A MILE.

The above race to be run in two divisions, viz: a race for colts and geldings only, and a race for fillies only. The value of the race to be apportioned in proportion to the sex of the eligible foals dropped, i. e., if 60 per cent. of the eligible produce are colts, then 60 per cent. of the money goes to the colts and gelding race, and 40 per cent. to the filly race, or vice versa.

In making an entry for a produce race the produce is entered by specifying the dam and sire or sires.

If the produce of a mare is dropped before the first of January, or if there is no produce, or if the produce is dead when dropped, or if twins are dropped, the entry of such mare is void.

In produce races, allowances for the produce of untried horses must be claimed before the time of closing, and not lost by subsequent winnings.

An untried horse is one whose produce in any country are maidens at the time of closing. In all produce stakes the nominator must register with the Clerk of the Course where the horse is engaged within twelve months after the closing of such stake the sex, name, if any, color, and all marks, if any, as may distinguish it.

A horse not registered shall not be eligible to start, but the nominator shall be liable for such forfeits as may be due at the next ensuing date for declaration.

Sales to parties debarred from racing on race-courses under the authority of The Jockey Club shall have the effect of a declaration as if made on the declaring date next succeeding the sale, the forfeits then due must be paid by the vender, who shall give immediate notice of such sale to the Secretary or the Clerk of the Course where the race is to be run.

In produce races, or races for which nominations of foals are made, the nominator will be released from further liability by filing prior to the date of the first declaration stated in the conditions of the race, an accepted transfer of the entry, accompanied with all forfeits to date of such declaration.
